

Faculty of Engineering and Geological Sciences requires hiring researchers with a Doctoral Degree for Tenure-Track Positions in the area of Industrial Engineering

The Faculty of Engineering and Geological Sciences is seeking to incorporate full-time researchers for tenure-track positions. The roles will be carried out at the Campus Angamos of the Universidad Católica del Norte, in the city of Antofagasta (Chile). The Faculty of Engineering and Geological Sciences is part of the Universidad Católica del Norte, a leading institution in research and education in Northern Chile, with a current 6-year accreditation in all dimensions. Specifically, the Faculty has 5 Academic Units and 3 Research Centers supporting 13 undergraduate programs and 12 postgraduate programs. Currently, the University and the Faculty have active strategies in Research, Development, and Innovation to meet national and regional challenges for the development of society and the territory.

Requirements

- Be a Chilean citizen or a foreigner with valid permanent residency in Chile.
- Applicants must have a Ph.D. degree in Industrial Engineering or related areas
- Research experience in Operation Management, Human Factors, Production Systems, Supply Chain Management, and/or Operations Research.

Desirable

- Be part of national and international research networks.
- Have teaching experience at undergraduate or postgraduate levels.
- Demonstrable scientific productivity through publications indexed in WOS (Web of Science).

Required Application Materials

- Updated Curriculum Vitae.
- Notarized certificates of degree(s).
- Letter of intent.
- Copies of most relevant publications.
- Two recommendations.

What We Offer

- Salary according to the scale of the Universidad Católica del Norte
- Financial incentive for scientific publications.
- Opportunity to join multidisciplinary teams with national and international research networks.

After evaluating the submitted materials, a personal interview and a psychological assessment may be requested for the candidates. The deadline for receiving applications is October 28th, 2024.

Send applications and required documents to concursos.ficg@ucn.cl, indicating in the subject line: "Application for Academic Position DII", or to the address: Universidad Católica del Norte, Avenida Angamos 0610, Antofagasta, Chile.

In line with strategies to support closing the gender gap in research, women will be given preference in hiring, all else being equal.

In accordance with Chilean Law No. 20.422, the Universidad Católica del Norte seeks to ensure that selection processes are conducted on an equal basis for all individuals. Therefore, in compliance with Chilean Law 21.015, which encourages the inclusion of people with disabilities in the workforce, applicants may inform if they require support devices, adjustments to the instruments used during the selection process, or other adaptations, in order to ensure their participation on an equal opportunity basis.

The Universidad Católica del Norte reserves the right to declare the competition void without stating a reason.